Setúbal Polytechnic University Welcomes Participants of Aquaculture Horizons 2025 Conference

Welcome to all participants, speakers and guests,

It is with great pleasure that of Setúbal Polytechnic University welcomes the Aquaculture Horizons 2025 conference, which marks an important moment of meeting and exchanging knowledge.

We are very happy to bring together professors, students, researchers and professionals from the sector who will contribute to the advancement of discussions and innovations in Aquaculture.

This event offers a unique opportunity to learn, share ideas and create new partnerships. Throughout the days, there will be the opportunity to explore relevant topics, listen to presentations from renowned experts and participate in debates that will shape the future of aquaculture.

The hosting of the Aquaculture Horizons 2025 conference will mark an important moment for the Setúbal Polytechnic University and for the Setúbal region, where aquaculture represents an important sector. Each person's commitment to building an environment of collaboration and excellence will contribute to the success of the conference.

Prof. Ângela Maria Gomes Teles de Matos Cremon de Lemos

President of Setúbal Polytechnic University, Portugal

Registration Brochure

Aquaculture Horizons 2025

International conference & exhibition on aquaculture & fisheries (Aquaculture Horizons 2025) will be held in the vibrant city of Setúbal, Portugal. The Aquaculture Horizons 2025 promises to be an immersive exploration of the latest trends, breakthroughs, and sustainable practices shaping the future of aquaculture.

Renowned experts will delve into the latest advancements in sustainable aquaculture, exploring how innovative practices can ensure a harmonious coexistence with our oceans. A diverse panel of experts will explore the integration of cutting-edge technologies such as AI, IoT, and blockchain in aquaculture. Discover how these innovations are revolutionizing efficiency, traceability, and overall industry sustainability.

The conference also serves as a premier interdisciplinary platform for researchers, practitioners, and educators to present and discuss the latest innovations, trends, concerns, as well as practical challenges encountered and adopted solutions in the fields of aquaculture and fisheries technology. There will be speaker slots dedicated to Q&A sessions, ensuring detailed discussions on the topics and providing opportunities for active participation. Additionally, there will be captivating networking opportunities for all attendees. Given the high interest, we anticipate that the event will sell out quickly, so we encourage you to register early.

The Polytechnic Institute of Setubal (IPS) is the highest education reference in the region, with a campus in Setubal and a campus in Barreiro. It offers a variety of courses in several study fields and different higher education levels (Undergraduate degrees and Master's degrees). It bets on practical teaching, focused on the needs of the labor market.

IPS is situated in the Greater Lisbon Metropolitan Area, region of Setúbal. The region is home to strong enterprises in such fields as, for example, paper and motor car industries, and holds a highly important geostrategic position, since it is a gateway to Europe. Furthermore, Setúbal region, with its varied landscape composed of sea and mountains, including a large protected area with an application in progress to UNESCO Human Heritage, is a tourist destination for both Portuguese and foreigners.

Hosting the Aquaculture Horizons 2025 at the Polytechnic Institute of Setúbal (IPS) offers a unique advantage due to its strategic location in a region renowned for both industrial innovation and marine biodiversity. Setúbal's vibrant coastal community, combined with IPS's strong academic and research expertise, provides an ideal setting for fostering collaboration among scientists, industry experts, and local aquaculture stakeholders.

Setubal, Portugal

Setúbal, a charming coastal city in Portugal, is known for its scenic landscapes, historic sites, and vibrant maritime culture. Located along the northern bank of the Sado River, Setúbal offers stunning views of the estuary and the surrounding Arrábida mountain range, known for its lush forests and pristine beaches.

The city has a rich historical heritage, with landmarks such as the São Filipe Castle and the Monastery of Jesus, showcasing its centuries-old architecture and ties to Portugal's past. Setúbal's economy has traditionally centered around fishing, shipbuilding, and salt production, but it has evolved to include wine production and tourism.

The nearby Sado estuary is home to diverse marine life, including a resident population of dolphins, which has made Setúbal a popular destination for eco-tourism and marine conservation. Setúbal's vibrant food scene, particularly known for fresh seafood dishes and local wines, further adds to its appeal, making it a unique blend of natural beauty, history, and cultural richness.

Setúbal is an ideal venue for the Aquaculture Horizons 2025 conference, offering a vibrant maritime setting, strong ties to sustainable seafood industries and aquaculture farmers, as well as proximity to marine institutions and laboratories that drive innovation and collaboration in the aquaculture sector.
